Next Generation Hydro Software

In the Next Generation Hydro Software project, Deltares is working on the integration and improvement of its hydro software. Important technological innovations make up the new computational core D-Flow Flexible Mesh, as well as the user-friendly, open modelling environment Delta Shell. The new, advanced software will allow water managers and modellers to do their work better and faster.

You can read more about the project in the Deltares flyer

Next Generation Hydro Software

or

Hydrossoftware van de toekomst

(in Dutch)