Welcome to the Adaptation Pathways Home Page!

This site is devoted to presenting developments in Dynamic Adaptation Policy frameworks. It is also intended to provide a platform for discussion, the sharing of experiences and the distribution of tools related to dynamic pathways analysis.

Watch the introductory video above* to get a better idea of Adaptation Pathways, and you will find further information on the other pages of this site. These you can easily navigate to using the links located in the left sidebar.

This site is constantly being updated, so please check back regularly to see what we have added!

* Note the video will only play in browsers with .mp4 plugin support.

If you cannot get the video to play within this site, you can download it here and play it locally with the free VLC media player.
